Student Comments:

- Taking away the lowest exam grade will help a lot, so that is very much appreciated! I wish we had more examples in our notes to be able to do the homework and quizzes a little easier
- I think when we started incorporating break out room into the classes the learning became very active and hands on which I know benefited all of us. I think it is definitely something to continue! Thank you for a nice semester.
- Dr. Packauskas has done a great job teaching difficult material to students in a difficult situation. I believe he pushes his students hard which makes some better in math but also makes some students crack under the pressure.
- The only real issue I had in the course was the change midway through on how the homeworks would be done because of the cheating going on. I don't know if there was really a better solution but it was almost like a punishment for students who did the work properly. Maybe allowing students to get rid of one of the bad quiz grades would have been better. I also found it very difficult at times to complete the quizzes and exams on time which is especially stressful given the uncertainty with internet connection.
- Dr. Packauskas was extremely understanding, resourceful, available, and overall very effective given the circumstances. Hands down my favorite professor in the Math department. This class was a difficult one to learn online, and still Prof. Packauskas tried his best to help us all.
