Student Comments:

- The class was well instructed considering the online instruction, I would have just preferred more explanation with certain topics maybe like less material, but I know there is some material you just have to cover.
- By far, of all my professors during these trying times, you have presented the best course adaptation. Not only have you effectively delivered material that challenged me to think, you also taught at a proper pace that eliminated boredom and made learning exhilarating. Thank you for your remarkable efforts and please enjoy the holidays if you celebrate :)
- Very kind, professional, and helpful. A good teacher for a subject that I find to be difficult.
- The one thing that was annoying with this class was when completing the MyMathLab if you mistyped something wrong once or didn't answer exactly like the computer did you were marked wrong, resulting in a very bad grade on homework. Written homework is much more effective for math class in my opinion and would have resulted in a better homework grade in my opinion. Other than that this Professor was one of my favorites and did an excellent job during this confusing time.
- Pre-calc is not a class to take over zoom. The complexity of assignments is not something that can benefit students without that face to face one on one time with the teachers.
- My professor was great! Very understanding and reasonable with complications to work assignments and class meetings!! very helpful person and great overall experience. Although personally, for me the class was hard, he made it more manageable.
